TrueCommerce Integration with Amazon Seller Central

Automatically receive Amazon Marketplace orders into your business system and send shipping data back to Amazon—no more retyping!

BENEFITS

More Connected. More Supported. More Prepared for What's Next.

➤ Orders captured through Amazon Seller Central are automatically sent to TrueCommerce Transaction Manager™ and integrated with your business system just like EDI orders.

➤ Eliminates manual bottlenecks. Automatically send tracking information to Amazon through TrueCommerce business system integrations.

➤ Works with both Fulfillment by Merchant (FBM) and Fulfillment by Amazon (FBA) orders placed on Amazon Seller Central.

➤ Offered as an affordable monthly subscription service.

Your customers shop on Amazon.com, the world's largest online marketplace—so it is critical that your products are available there. Selling on Amazon can help increase sales and attract new buyers, but also introduces cumbersome, error-prone manual steps into your fulfillment process.

Many merchants on Amazon Seller Central find that their staff must spend hours manually entering Amazon orders into their business system because no direct integration is available. Then, once an order is fulfilled, someone must hurriedly type the associated tracking number back into the Amazon Seller Central portal.

Fortunately for TrueCommerce customers, all that time-consuming manual effort can easily become a thing of the past. With the new TrueCommerce Amazon Marketplace Integration, both your inbound orders from Amazon and your outbound tracking information are processed automatically. No more manually retyping all that Amazon order data!
